

Environmental policy

Cellcomb supplies the healthcare, hygiene and food industries with protective and absorbent products for increased patient and food safety.

Cellcomb will act in line with sustainable development and continuously improve the management system to reduce the environmental impact of our operations.

The policy provides for the following:

- We shall comply with all applicable environmental laws and other environmental requirements that affect our business.
- Our operations shall strive to contribute to the circular economy.
- We will work with suppliers and customers to develop products that are gentle on the environment without compromising on quality and function.
- We will optimize the use of our raw materials by reducing waste, waste and scrapping.
- We will strive to reduce our usage of electricity.
- We will make our environmental policy understood by our employees.
